Optimal time-rebalancing

Emmanuel Gobet

Ecole Polytechnique

(Dated: March 27, 2014)

we study the problem of determining the optimal dates for rebalancing a hedging portfolio, invested in several assets. The minimization of tracking error over a large class of trading dates is investigated. An optimal solution is provided, and takes the form of hitting times of random ellipsoids built explicitly on the Gamma of the portfolio.

Joint work with N. Landon